

APPLICATION CRITERIA

There are formal criteria as well as assessment criteria for the Leapfrogs cheques. If the formal criteria are fulfilled and all questions answered according to the application guidance, a jury will go through your application to decide on approval or not. Read carefully the criteria below and the guidance in the application document to make your application complete and competitive.

Formal criteria

- You should have taken at least one credit during the previous year before applying at Lund University, Malmö University, Kristianstad University or Blekinge Institute of Technology
- Intention to work three months full time with your project
- Participate in the mandatory activities
- A Swedish social security number ("personnummer" alt. "samordningsnummer"). If you are an international student staying for less than a year, and thereby not eligible for a samordningsnummer, we accept a temporary number given to you by e.g. your university.

Assessment criteria

We also have some quality requirements on the Leapfrogs project. These will be judged by a jury that reviews the applications. In addition to the application itself, the jury might also, when required, have an interview with the applicant. The assessment criteria:

- The long-term potential of the project
- The entrepreneurial ability of the applicant
- That the project is innovative
- That the Leapfrogs cheque makes a difference to the project
- The description of expected achievements during the project

In addition to the above criteria, the jury welcomes if you have had any contact with someone from the innovation system regarding the idea. However, this is not a requirement.
